INVITATION

The 13th ALSA National English Competition 2009 “Beauty in Variety, Liberty in Unity, English for Entity”

Asian Law Students' Association (ALSA) is an autonomous and non profit institution of which its members are the students of law schools from various nations in Asia such as Indonesia, Singapore, Philippine, Malaysia, Thailand, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, China, and Hong Kong. ALSA Indonesia itself consists of 12 members of local chapters from various reputable public universities throughout Indonesia. As one of them, ALSA Local Chapter University of Indonesia (ALSA LC-UI) is an association where its members can develop themselves as well as the society in advancing. One of its ways to develop the society is by conducting several beneficial events.

ALSA National English Competition (ALSA E-Comp) has always been one of the events ALSA LC-UI proudly present. ALSA E-Comp is compilation of scientific competitions in linguistic field with English as the communicational media. The purpose of this event is to facilitate participants in improving their skills and talents through a competitive yet sportive atmosphere of competitions. To achieve the purpose, we present you The 13th ALSA National English Competition 2009 (ALSA E-Comp 2009) on 16th – 21st April 2009 with “Beauty in Variety, Liberty in Unity, English for Entity” as its theme. This theme is chosen because ALSA E-Comp 2009 itself is a nation-wide event where there will be various types of participants in it. We believe that variety is beautiful, that the freedom and liberty of expression can exist without ruining the unity, and that English can create an entity among all the varieties.

ALSA E-Comp 2009 has 8 competitions for high school and university students throughout the region. The purpose of holding this event is to facilitate participants in improving their skills and talents through a competitive yet sportive atmosphere of competitions. The 8 competitions are: Debate, News Casting, Story Telling, Speech, Paper Presentation, Spelling Bee, Battle of Brain, and ‘E-Doc’. ‘E-Doc’ itself is the newest competition branch in the history of ALSA E-Comp. It is a competition in which the contestants are required to cover the events of ALSA E-Comp 2009 itself with cell phone as the media. This competition is expected to develop participants’ ability of using English in a way that is not only educative, but also entertaining and creative.

Thus, we humbly invite you to participate in this nation-wide, prestigious, and challenging event. Enclosed with this invitation are registration forms and further explanations. We hope you can be a part of ALSA E-Comp 2009 so that together we can help developing the usage of English in daily life of the society.

Best Regards,

Ayodhia Primadarel
Project Officer

COMPETITIONS

1. DEBATE

Debate is a group competition which tests each participant's knowledge and their ability in giving arguments in order to support their motion. This competition will use the Asian Parliamentary format, where two (2) teams –consisting three (3) speakers each– will be competing against each other. The first team will carry out a 7-minute speech which will be followed by a 3-minute reply speech. The purposes of this competition are; to stimulate critical thinking and the sense of judgment of each participant, to convey the sense of debating as well as to enhance the competitive spirit of the participants.

2. NEWS CASTING

News Casting is an individual competition where each participant is required to read the news provided by the committee. In this competition each participant is expected to present the news with clear articulation just as a professional news presenter would do. They will be judged accordingly to their fluency in speaking English. The purpose of this competition is to enhance the importance of speaking English in a well manner, also to find potential as well as talented future news presenter.

3. SPELLING BEE

Spelling bee is an individual competition where each participants is challenged to spell as many complicated English words as possible correctly within the time limit. The fastest participant who is able to spell correctly most words given by the Judge will be determined as the winner. The purpose of this competition is no other than to improve the ability of spelling English of the participants.

4. STORY TELLING

Story telling is an individual competition in which every participant is required to retell a story given by the committee with their own method in an interesting way to impress the Judges. The winner of this competition will get the honor to present on the night of the closing ceremony of ALSA E-Comp 2009. The outcome of this competition is to the improve participants' self-confidence, in addition to develop their theatrical skills and their ability in performing in English

5. SPEECH

Speech is an individual competition where the participants are required to give a speech on the topic given by the committee in eight (8) minutes. The aspects judged from their appearance are the content, grammar, pronunciation, and their way of presenting the speech. By contributing to this competition, the participants will get the opportunity to learn on how to present orally in a well manner.

6. PAPER PRESENTATION

Paper presentation is an individual competition where each contestant is required to make a paper about a topic given by the committee and then present it in front of the judges. The outcome of this competition is to enhance contestants' ability in making papers in English as well as to present it.

7. BATTLE OF THE BRAINS

Battle of the brains is a group competition where each group compete against each other to answer the questions given before the other group does. The more correct answer one group scores, the bigger their chance in winning the competition. The benefit of joining this competition is that the participants will be more aware of the situations happen in the world, since the questions will be as regarding to the current situations which happen.

8. E-DOCUMENTARY

E-Documentation (hereafter known as E-Doc) is a new branch of competition in ALSA E-Comp 2009. It is a group competition where the participants are required to make a short movie which films the activities happened during the conduction of ALSA E-Comp 2009 itself. They are allowed to use phone-camera to record the activities until the fourth day, and alter them. The winning movie will be screened on the night of the ALSA E-comp 2009 closing ceremony. The purpose of this competition is to develop the creativity of the participants in expressing ideas in short movies.
